ORGANISATIONAL OVERVIEW OF THE JOHNSTON COLLECTION

The Johnston Collection (TJC) is a multi-award-winning and critically acclaimed museum centered in an historic East Melbourne townhouse.

The museum partners with creatives from contemporary arts communities to re-interpret the collection in a regular program of re-installation and interventions of the permanent collection and offers special exhibitions, study days, lectures, and workshops throughout the year, covering a range of museum topics, themes, and practices.

TJC's vision is to engage audiences with the visual arts and design, and it is dedicated to delivering programs that present challenging and enriching experiences for visitors of all ages and backgrounds.

Located in one of the most beautiful residential areas in Melbourne, TJC opened to the public in November 1990. Established as an independent, not-for-profit public museum by The W R Johnston Trust, TJC is the legacy of William Robert Johnston (1911-1986), an antique dealer, collector, and real estate investor, who left his estate for the education and enjoyment of others. TJC offers its visitors a unique intimate engagement with English Georgian and Regency periods sometimes in dialogue with contemporary artists' work.

In addition, the organisation is tightly controlled by a Planning Permit to operate issued by the City of Melbourne. The Planning Permit impacts on marketing the organisation and creates particular challenges in making TJC visible and accessible to the wider public.

Recently TJC was successful in its application to the City of Melbourne for a new Planning Permit (TP-2019-62), which means TJC will now have the opportunity to operate 7 days per week and to be open to the public for 5 days a week.

The new Planning Permit will change the way we have opened and operated the museum over the last 30 years, and it will be a timely, necessary, and exciting time of continuing change and adaptation over the next year.

OVERVIEW OF THE POSITION

The roles of Visitor Experience Officers (VEOs) contribute significantly to the experience of visitors to TJC. They enrich the experience of our visitors by providing professional service in a friendly and welcoming manner.

Working closely with the VEO (Weekday | Wednesday to Thursday), the VEO (Weekend | Friday - Sunday) ensures the smooth running of all TJC front-of-house operations. The Visitor Experience team is the public face of TJC; they significantly contribute to the experience of visitors by providing outstanding and enriched customer service.

The VEO is typically the first point of contact for visitors to TJC. The role transports our visitors in the courtesy bus, welcomes all visitors to TJC, provides assistance to visitors and guests regarding cloaking, ensures the safety of visitors, information regarding programs, events, activities, and facilities within TJC. The VEOs also assist with safety and security of visitors and artworks.

VEO staff wear a unifying garment that identifies them as TJC staff. The position involves safely driving the courtesy bus, standing for periods of time, and actively interacting with all our visitors.

The VEO role is pivotal to ensuring clear and consistent communication regarding programs and facilities to our volunteers and visitors. They provide daily briefings to all volunteers and ensure rostering of volunteers is adequate and organises any changes as required. The role performs general administration for front-of-house and ensures the highest level of customer service at all times. The VEO also liaises regularly with administration staff, external contract staff, clients, and suppliers.

The VEO is an experienced and enthusiastic individual who can successfully provide support to staff and volunteers in maintaining TJC's standards of presentation and preservation to the public. This position also provides collaborative support to the VEO (Weekday | Wednesday - Thursday) role.
